Three-fourths of the Congressmen and two-thirds of the Legislature is what the Indiana Republicans got, still the Democrats claim a victory. How is that?

The Democratic majority in Indiana was 17,000 in 1874 this time not over 8,000, and the Republicans make all the gains. Is there any cause for a Democrat to grin?

Ohio will give Hayes 25,000 in November, Indiana will give him 10,000, mark that. Those people are not yet ready to surrender to Isham Harris and Bob Tombs.

The Democrats are down in the mouth; their faces are long; a good dose of worm candy would probably do them good. Try it boys.

Every Democrat that goes to the Legislature will be whipped into voting for Isham Harris, mark that! A vote for one of them is a vote for Harris. Now will the people endorse Harris by electing Chambers and Hancock?

A Democrat picked up a Knoxville Tribune last Saturday and took a look at its Rooster and read the dispatches. He said he could see victory in that rooster but there was none in the news.

If the Democrats are satisfied with the October elections we are. They are welcome to all such victories.

The Knoxville Tribune hoists its Rooster. Yet the Republicans carry Ohio by an increase majority, gaining 6 Congressmen. They reduce the Democratic majority in Indiana and gain four Congressmen. How can the Tribune crow over that? Has it turned Republican.

The London Times is still whacking away at Thornburg. The latest from London county is that Jake will get it by an increased majority.

James D. Porter is the candidate of the ring thieves and office holders convention, and is running in the interest of that set. He is the man that signed the "dog law" bill to make the poor people of Tennessee pay tax on their dogs while the rich man has his bonds and pays no tax. Are the people of this State going to endorse these acts or are they going to vote for Maney and reform? We pause for the answer in November.

We deny the charge of the London Times that the "Editors of the Herald are candidates for office." One of the Editors is city Recorder and gets a salary of $75.00 per year. He has consequently gotten very rich; The other editor is a mechanic, and is getting rich as fast as possible. So you see Uncle William how we are fixed so as to need no office.

Yardley pleased the Democrats very much Tuesday night. They cheered him early, often and loud.

Harris can explain to the blind who stole the school fund, but to a public that can read he can't. We understand he told very smooth tales.

Ramsey & Clift the electors for this district spoke here on Tuesday last. Ramsey is a little more than Clift had bargained for. He thought he would run over Ramsey rough shod, but has found out that it is quite a big undertaking.

James T. Bradford the Republican candidate for the Senate in this district was in town this week mixing among the people. Jim is making friends wherever he goes. He is one of those genial warm hearted kind of fellows that the people like.

Arch Traitor Harris carried Tennessee out of the Union at the point of the bayonet, over the protest of two-thirds of her people, and cost the State millions of dollars. Now his party want to send him to the United States senate, and we predict that if the Democrats get the Legislature he will surely go there. They endorse all his acts.

Emerson Edridge the eagle orator of Tennessee gave the Democracy a thorough skinning at this place Tuesday night. He learned them some things the school fund Governor didn't know.

Col. Edwards and Arthur Traynor were to go to Charleston or Calhoun the early part of last week to organize a Tilden, Hendricks & Yardley reform club, but they heard of the Republican victory in the west and didn't go. Hold your head up boys if you die hard.

He Congratulates.
The following explains for itself: CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Maj. Thos. O'Connor, Ohio certainly Democratic. I congratulate you.

L. A. GRATZ.
Wonder if he "congratulates" the Major now! If a few more such little fellows as Gratz would stump for Democracy, the Republicans would carry everything. Gratz belongs in Knoxville.

The average Democratic editor can out lie the rest of man kind put to gether. Every time the associated press reports a Republican victory these Democratic editors accuse them of lying. Now the fact is that the associated press is and has for the last sixteen years leaned toward the Democracy, and every man with a thimble full of brains knows it. Now in the case of Colorado the press announced that it had gone Republican by over a thousand; the Democrats accused it of lying. But it turns out that the Republicans elected their Governor by over a thousand, and the Legislature by over two thousand. We can't see any use in misrepresenting facts, and don't see why they do it.

James T. Bradford.
In this issue will be found the announcement of James T. Bradford of Polk county as a candidate for the State Senate in this district. Mr. Bradford is a native Tennessean and is a shrewd business farmer, and is comparatively a young man—not over 35 years of age. He is personally popular in Polk county, and it is claimed by his friends that he will carry Polk county. He is no professional politician, and consequently did not seek the nomination of the convention. He however has accepted the nomination and propose to throw his whole weight into the Republican cause. He will undoubtedly be elected by a large majority; and all that is necessary to accomplish that end is, for his friends to work. A man who is personally as popular at home as is Mr. Bradford, must necessarily find friends from home. Mr. Bradford is no great orator but is a man of sound business sense. What the people most need in the Legislature is more brains and less gas, consequently Mr. Bradford is the very man to send there.

October Elections.
The October elections go to show that while the people north of the Ohio river are willing to trust a Democratic Governor, they are not willing to trust them with national affairs. On this subject the Knoxville Chronicle says: "Two years ago a Democratic tidal wave swept over the country and carried with it a large majority of Democratic Congressmen. The record made by the Democratic House has been so obnoxious to the American people that they have determined on a change and the result in Ohio and Indiana shows how they are carrying it out. This, we take it, is a sure index to public sentiment in the Northern States and points with unerring certainty to a Democratic defeat at the ballot-box next month. That there will be a Republican majority in the next House we are now well assured, and at same considerations which lead the people to turn out Democratic Congressmen and put it in Republicans will induce them to vote against the Democratic nominee for President. There are men who are willing to vote for a Democratic Governor, Secretary of State, or some other State office, who will not think of entrusting the management of national affairs to that party. This was clearly shown in Indiana in 1872. In the October election Gov. Hendricks carried the State by 1,148 majority. In November General Grant carried the State by 22,515 votes. This will doubtless be the result this year. Two years ago the Democrats carried the State by over 17,000 majority. In the election on Tuesday, that majority was cut down to the tune of about 11,000 votes, and may be wiped out entirely, and next month the State is pretty certain to cast its electoral vote for Hayes and Wheeler by a larger majority than that just given to the Democratic ticket. The contest on Tuesday did not involve the question of turning the Government over the Democrats of the Southern States, but the contest next month will involve that question. That question was involved in the selection of Congressmen, and the large Republican gain in the delegation elected from the two States, show how the people regard it. We see nothing whatever in the result of Tuesday's elections at which Republicans need be discouraged, so far as the great national issues are concerned. To the contrary, we see an unmistakable determination on the part of the people in the Northern States, not to trust the Democratic party with the management of national affairs. This will be their verdict on the 5th day of next month.

In Respect to the Late Justice of the Peace.

BRADLEY COUNTY COURT,
Tuesday, Oct. 31, 1876.
Whereas it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Universe to take from our midst one who in time past, was an honorable and respected member of this Court—J. H. Davis, Esq. who was born in Greene county, Tennessee, on the 26th day of October 1808, and died at his residence in Cleveland, Tenn. on the 20th day of August 1876, in the 68th year of his age. The deceased served as a member of this Court for a period of 12 years, and a Clerk of the same for 6 years and he in all his business connections with the same, discharged his duty faithfully, honestly and impartially. Ever keeping before him the time honored maxim "that honesty was best policy" but he has fallen in death with the Campbell's, Keller, Donahoe, Swan, Howard, Britton, Lowery, Potts, Weir, Taylor, Lacey, Baugh, Underwood, Parks, Walker, Hambricht and others, and have passed into that land from whose borne no traveler returns.

Be it resolved by the County Court now in session, that for the valuable and efficient services rendered in this Court and for the agreeable associations with the deceased that we with the relatives and friends deeply feel the loss which we have sustained.

Be it further resolved that the Cleveland Herald and Cleveland Banner be requested to publish the same.

F. E. HARDWICK, Chairman.
J. H. RECKER, Clerk.

The Republicans gain heavy in Ohio and Indiana, still the Democrats are not happy.

The Indiana Legislature now stands as follows:
Senate—Republicans 26, Democrats 24.
House—Republicans 53, Democrats 44.
Making a Republican majority on joint ballot of 11.
The last Legislature stood as follows:
Republicans 54; Democrats 96

THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

The following is the platform, as adopted by the National Republican Convention that nominated Hayes and Wheeler:

When in the economy of Providence this land was to be purged of human slavery, and when the strength of the Government of the people, by the people, for the people, was demonstrated, the Republican party came into power. Its deeds have passed into history, and we look back to their memories and high aims for the good of our country and mankind, and looking to the future with unflinching courage, hope and purpose, we, the representatives of the party in National Convention assembled make the following declaration of principles:

First. The United States of America as a nation, not a league, by the combined working of the National and State governments under their respective Constitutions, the rights of every citizen are secured at home and protected abroad, and their common welfare promoted.

Second. The Republican party has preserved those governments to the hundredth anniversary of the nation's birth, and they are now emboldened of the great truths spoken at its cradle, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that for the attainment of these ends governments have been instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; until those truths are cheerfully obeyed, if needed to be vigorously enforced, the work of the Republican party is unfinished. The permanent pacification of the Southern section of the Union, the complete protection of all its citizens in the free enjoyment of all their rights are duties to which the Republican party are sacredly pledged.

[Applause.] The power to provide for the enforcement of principles embodied in the recent constitutional amendments is vested by the amendments in the Congress of the United States, and we declare it to be the solemn obligation of the legislative and executive departments of the Government to put into immediate and vigorous exercise all their constitutional powers for removing any just causes of discontent on the part of any class, and securing every American citizen complete liberty and exact equality in the exercise of all civil, political and public rights [Applause.] To this end we imperatively demand a courage and fidelity to those duties shall not after until these results are placed beyond dispute or recall.

[Applause.] Fourth. In the first act of congress signed by President Grant, the National government assumed to remove any doubts of its purpose to discharge all just obligations to public creditors and solemnly pledged its faith to make provision at the earliest practicable period for redemption of the United States notes in coin.

[cheers.] Commercial prosperity, public morals and national credit demand that this promise be fulfilled by a continuous and steady progress to specie payment. [Long and continued applause and cheers.] Fifth. Under the constitution the Presidents and heads of departments are to make nominations for office; the Senate is to advise and consent to the appointments, and the House of Representatives is to accuse and prosecute faithless officers. The best interests of the public service demand that this distinctness be respected; that Senators and Representatives who may be judges and accusers, should not dictate appointments to office. The inevitable rule for appointments should have reference to the honesty, ability and capacity of appointees; giving to the party in power those places where harmony and vigor of administration require its policy to be represented, but permitting all others to be filled by persons selected with sole reference to efficiency of public service, and the right of citizens to share in the honor of rendering faithful service to their country.

Sixth. We rejoice in the quickening conscience of the people concerning political affairs; will hold all public officers to a rigid responsibility, and engage that the prosecution and punishment of all who betray official trusts shall be speedy, thorough and unsparring. [cheers.] Seventh. The public school system of several States is the bulwark of the American Republic; and with a view to its security and permanence we recommend an amendment to the constitution of the United States, forbidding the application of any public funds or property for the benefit of any schools or institutions under sectarian control. [Great cheering continued several minutes.] In response to repeated calls, Gen. Hawley read the plank a second time, and the delegates and audience repeated the cheers.

It is now necessary for the current expenditures and the obligations of the public debt must be largely derived from duties upon imports, which so far as possible, should be adjusted to promote the interest of American labor, and advance the prosperity of the whole country.

Ninth. We reaffirm our opposition to further grants of the public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the national domain be devoted to free homes for the people.

Tenth. It is the imperative duty of the government to so modify existing treaties with European governments that the same protection shall be afforded to adopt American citizens that is given to native born, and all necessary laws be passed to protect emigrants in the absence of power in the State for that purpose.

Eleventh. It is the immediate duty of congress to fill the immediate effect of the immigration and importation of Mongolians on the moral and material interests of the country.

Twelfth. The Republican party recognizes with approval the substantial advance recently made toward the establishment of equal rights woman by the many important amendments effected by Republican Legislatures in the laws, which concern the personal and property relations of wives, mothers and widows, and by the appointment and election of women to the superintendence of education, charities and other public trusts.

The honest demand of this class of citizens, for additional rights and privileges and immunities should be treated with respectful consideration.

Thirteenth. The constitution confers upon congress sovereign power over the territories of the United States for their government, and in the exercise of this power, it is the right and duty of congress to prohibit and extirpate in the territories that relic of barbarism, polygamy, and we demand such legislation as shall secure this end, and the supremacy of American institutions in all the Territories. [Applause.]

Fourteenth. The pledges which the nation has given to our soldiers and sailors must be fulfilled; the grateful people will always hold those who periled their lives for the country's preservation in the kindest remembrance.

Fifteenth. We sincerely deprecate all sectional feeling and tendencies we, therefore, note with deep solicitude that the Democratic party counts as its chief hope of success upon the electoral vote of a united South, secured through the efforts of those who were recently arrayed against the nation, and we invoke the earnest attention of the country to the grave truth that a success thus achieved would re-open sections strife and imperil the national honor and human rights.
